WTCC Host Honored by West Indian Social Club

Maurice G. Lindsay host of the Caribbean Culture program on WTCC-FM, has received the 2009 Achievement Award of the West Indian Social Club of Hartford. A native of Jamaica, Maurice has been a member of WTCC since 1980. His popular program, heard on Saturday evenings, offers music and commentary for the Caribbean community in the Connecticut River valley.

Lindsay was selected for this honor “for his efforts as a media personality, providing entertainment and information to the community, and for supporting the West Indian Social Club of Hartford,” according to Terence Durrant, WISC president.

A graduate of STCC, Maurice was honored as Distinguished Alumnus of the college in 2007. He has established Lindsay Entertainment Network, a Springfield-based media production studio for local radio and TV series, most focusing on the Caribbean.

Maurice received a bachelor’s degree at American International College as well as a master’s degree in public administration. For 15 years he was operation manager for Baystate Medical Center, and since 1998 he has been a deputy clerk of the U.S. District Court in
